

Cedar Valley Produce Auction consists of a group of local growers who saw a need for a wholesale produce auction to sell fresh fruits, vegetables and flowers.

The auction method is the fairest way to sell, as it creates a true supply and demand environment.

With more than 1 acre under roof, we eliminate produce sitting in the sun while waiting to be sold. Produce is now unloaded on the floor (in rows) under the roof making it easier for buyers to walk along and see what will be sold, also allowing it to be sold faster, reducing the time buyers need to be at the auction.

For the larger buyers who don't have time to attend the auction, there will be an experienced order buyer available to buy his produce. There will be a 3% buyers fee charged for order buying. Delivery charge is extra.
